

SECOND NATIONAL LEGION MEETING

Big Convention Opens at Cleveland—Address of Commander First Day Feature

(By Associated Press)
Cleveland, O., Sept. 27.—The great single service American Legion members have rendered their country is their "virile stand for the maintenance of law and order," Franklin D'Olier, national commander of the American Legion, told the second annual convention of the Legion at its opening session here today.

"We quickly served notice in no uncertain terms upon those wild radicals who would by force attempt to injure those very institutions we had risked our lives to protect," said Commander D'Olier. "We stated plainly we were ready for them and could meet their force with far greater force sufficient to stop them instantly."

In his address, Commander D'Olier said:

"During the month of November last in the city of Minneapolis, there was held the first national convention of the American Legion. When the temporary organizations arising out of the Paris meeting in March and the St. Louis meeting in May, 1919, were made permanent, a constitution adopted, policies determined upon and the first national officers elected to direct the work of the national organization during the year to follow."

"Today we are assembled together in our second national convention where you are to receive reports as to the results accomplished by the national organization during this first year of our existence."

"It is only 18 months ago that at the Paris meeting the idea of a veterans' organization was first seriously considered. Since that day our organization has grown so rapidly that in every state and in every community throughout the length and breadth of the land the name American Legion stands for the highest ideals and most wonderful spirit of unselfish service shown by every man and woman in the army, navy and marine corps during the world war."

"The rapid growth of the Legion has been phenomenal. Such a thing never happened before in this or any other country. We have interpreted the main function of national headquarters as service to the different state departments and have at all times favored the maximum recognition of the rights of individual states not only in their relations with the national headquarters but as between the states themselves as well."

"During these present days of unrest and readjustment, the American Legion and the stand of the ex-service men for law and order is the greatest possible insurance policy our country could possibly have and the only insurance premium the ex-service man expects in return is simply fair play from that government with which he has acted fair."

"The first official act of this administration, after the close of the convention, was to call conference in Washington to consider the deplorable condition of the disabled man. Although the war has been over more than a year, government compensation to disabled men was so inadequate that many men were objects of private charity."

EXPANSION OF LEGION WITHIN SHORT TIME

(By Associated Press)
Cleveland, O., Sept. 27.—How the American Legion has expanded since the close of the first national convention last November from a loosely knit structure of 3,472 posts in fifty departments to a world wide organization of approximately 9,800 functioning posts in all states, the District of Columbia, five outlying American possessions and ten foreign countries, was set forth in the report of Lemuel Bolles the national adjutant, to the Legion's second annual convention here today.

Meantime, pursuant to authority granted at the first convention, the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion to which mother, wives, daughters and sisters of ex-service men are eligible, has been organized on a voluntary basis, he reported. Units chartered number 1,350. Authority has been granted for the holding of department conventions of the auxiliary where one auxiliary unit has been chartered for every two Legion posts in a state.

MARSHAL FOSH SENDS GREETINGS TO LEGION

(By Associated Press)
Cleveland, O., Sept. 27.—Greetings from Marshal Foch of France were read to the American Legion convention here today. He sent this message:

To the American Legion in Convention Assembled, Cleveland, O. Regretting my inability to find myself among the former combatants of the glorious American Army, my heart is with them at the moment of the second anniversary of the fighting they went through by the side of the Allies for the common cause of right and liberty. I again render homage to the valor and to the tenacity which they unceasingly showed on the battle fields of France; in the days of misfortune and the days of success; the magnificent enthusiasm with which they answered our call; the great part they took in the sacrifices of war; the glorious remembrance of those who fell on our soil will remain a token of profound gratitude and the indestructible union of our two countries. I send my cordial greetings to Cleveland, the "Steel City" and to the great state of Ohio, which has furnished to America so many illustrious statesmen and to France so many faithful friends.

JOHN T. WOODFORD DEAD

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Sept. 27.—John T. Woodford, 73 years old, one of the most widely known of saddle horses in Kentucky, and for many years an exhibitor at fairs, died at his home Saturday night after a brief illness, death being caused by pneumonia. He had been in ill health for many months. Six children survive. Two brothers, Ben and Catesby Woodford, of Bourbon county, also survive together with his widow, who has been seriously ill for a year.

CHARLES VAUGHT GOES WITH LEXINGTON MAN

Charles W. Vaught has purchased from R. B. Hawthorne his interest in the Jewell-Hawthorne Motor Co. and the new firm will be known as the Southern Motor Car Company, says the Lexington Herald. There will be no change in the location and the company will continue to handle the same stock of goods as before.

Vaught is a former well known Richmond boy, but has been living in Lexington for some time.

$20 TAKEN FROM ROLL WHILE MAN WAS SLEEPING

Sunday night while W. L. Peyton, living on North Fifth street, slept, he left the door open and about 11 o'clock a man entered the house and placed his trousers near the bed and Monday morning found that a roll of bills had not disappeared but had shrunk to the extent of $20 during the night. Why the intruder did not take the remainder of the money is the surprising part of it. Peyton says the $20 bill was wrapped about the rest. He is on the trail of the thief, since he believes he has a clue. Mr. Peyton claims the remainder of the money was placed in a pocketbook which, in turn, was returned to his pocket.

DIVORCE SUIT IN ROWAN

Morehead, Ky., Sept. 27.—Cruelty and nonsupport are charges made against F. M. Toliver, wealthy farmer and president of the Morehead Grocery Company, a wholesale concern, in a suit for divorce filed by Mrs. Toliver.

JURY HAS CASE

(By Associated Press)
Winchester, Ky., Sept. 27.—Shortly before noon the jury in the case of Rodney Haggard, charged with the murder of Ben Good, had not returned a verdict. Mrs. Haggard and daughter accompanied Haggard to the court house and sat together while the jury was deliberating.

Winchester, Ky., Sept. 27.—On account of the illness of W. L. Heflin, one of the jurors in the Rodney Haggard murder case, the jury, after having been about 40 minutes in the jury room, Saturday night reported they could not resume deliberations and were held over until Monday morning. The jury took the case at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night.

The charge to the jury by Circuit Judge Shackelford was the usual one where pleas are self-defense and insanity. Three speeches were made on each side. For the defense S. T. Davis, of Winchester, made the opening address. Other defense speeches were by Judge J. M. Benton and John M. Stevenson. For the prosecution speeches were made by H. H. Moore, the county attorney; Maury Kemper and Col. John R. Allen, of Lexington.

GUARDS PLACED ABOUT HOSPITAL

Emil Lorisich, Slayer of Mrs. Estes, Alive, With Little Hope of Recovery

Emil Lorisich, who shot and killed Mrs. Lucy Estes at her home on Second street Friday night, after which he shot himself through the temple, tearing away a large portion of the scalp and a portion of the brain, was reported Monday morning as being in a critical condition.

The attending physicians state there is little hope of his recovery, although they would make no further prediction, stating that the man was possessed of a wonderful vitality.

The tragedy has aroused relatives of Mrs. Estes, many of whom were in Richmond Sunday to attend the funeral services, which were conducted at the First Christian church at 3 o'clock, after which interment was made in the Richmond cemetery. There was a large gathering of relatives and friends of the well known woman. The minister, Dr. Homer W. Carpenter, delivered an impressive funeral rite.

The relatives of Mrs. Estes, while accepting the theory that Lorisich was apparently insane when the deed was committed, did not withhold their resentment. Some suspected that since the man is still alive, he should be guarded, they suspecting there might be a chance for his removal from the hospital. County Judge W. K. Price was communicated with, resulting in the placing of two guards about the institution Sunday night. County and city officials were discussing the possibility of Lorisich's recovery Monday morning, and one of them stated that a warrant perhaps would be filed, should the slayer of Mrs. Estes continue to recover.

The attending physicians, however, are of the opinion that before the healing of the wounds the man's vitality will be drained to such an extent that his recovery will be impossible. Lorisich has been unable to make any statements since the night of the tragedy.

COUNT CLERK ADAMS RESIGNS POSITION

J. P. Adams, Clerk of the Madison County Court, Deputy Clerk of the Juvenile Court, and private clerk to County Judge W. K. Price, has resigned these positions, the resignation to take effect October 1st, and will leave on that date for Mason, Warren county, Ohio, to take charge of a farm he and his brother, Curtis Adams, of Winchester, recently purchased, for which they paid $24,500. The farm is one of the best in the state of Ohio, is well stocked, and is a modern home, it having a lighting system in residence and barn, and hot water system, and furnace in the residence. The farm has been in one family since James Monroe was President, the land being deeded by the government to the parties who sold it to the Messrs. Adams.

Mr. Adams is perhaps the best known court clerk in Madison county, owing to his affiliation with the various tribunals with which he has been connected. His knowledge of law, together with a pleasing personality, has rendered him a valued attaché of the offices with which he has been connected. He has proved himself a most efficient and faithful man for the position and it will be difficult to replace him.

OLD AGE DEFERRED

A Woman Is As Old As She Looks and a Man As Old As He Feels

This is a familiar saying, full of significance nowadays, but when vitality is low and she lacks energy, Vinol, non-secret cod liver and iron strength-creator and body-builder is the one remedy that may be depended upon to enrich the blood, quicken the circulation, increase the appetite and in a natural manner impart strength and vigor to every part of the body.

There are many people in this city who will tell you from actual experience how much Vinol has done for them.

Your druggist sells it. Accept no substitute.

SPIVY INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Change is Said to be Result of Shooting of Young Nesbit Bryant in July

According to reports from Irvine, the Estill county grand jury, which has been in session for almost a week, has returned an indictment against Detective Joe Spivy on a charge of shooting with intent to kill. It is said to be in the case of Nesbit Bryant, the young man who was shot one night early in July by the officer in the vicinity of Ravenna, and which, it is asserted, terminated in a damage suit of $10,000 against the L. & N. railway company by the injured man's relatives.

Bryant is said to have reached the town late at night and was awaiting the midnight train when the officer came upon him. Bryant is said to have excited the suspicions of the officer and started walking down the street. When commanded to halt, reports have it that Bryant started to run, whereupon the officer shot, bringing his man down by a shot in the back. Bryant has been in a serious condition in a hospital for some time as a result of the injury, and an attorney in the case has admitted that the young man will doubtless be crippled for life.

It was first believed that the indictment was a result of the Irvine tragedy on the morning of August 20, when Chief of Police R. G. Philpot and Deputy Sheriff Henry Reed were killed as a result of a gun battle. Spivy was taken to Irvine by Jailer William Berges when called upon to do so, but no evidence was taken after his arrival, and he was returned to this city. Since the grand jury is still in session, it is expected that spivy will be called again, since, it is understood, there was no evidence gathered during his last visit pertaining to the Irvine tragedy.

GEO. ESTES CALLED BEFORE GRAND JURY

George Estes, removed from the Patie A. Clay hospital recently and placed in the Madison county jail, has been taken to Irvine, where, it is understood, he gave testimony before the Estill county grand jury concerning the tragedy of August 20, when Chief of Police R. G. Philpot and Deputy Sheriff Henry Reed died as a result of a gun battle, and himself and Detective Joseph Spivy were injured by bullets.

It is known there is a charge of murder against Estes, over whom the trouble started, when he arrived late at night with a quantity of whisky, it is said, in a suitcase, and this was demanded of Deputy Reed by Philpot, when the trouble started. Estes was brought to the local hospital suffering from wounds as a result of being shot, and hovered for several weeks between life and death. He was not returned to the Madison jail and will in all probability be kept in the Irvine jail until the time for his trial. Upon being brought to Richmond Estes admitted having a quantity of whisky in the suitcase, and federal officers were seeing to it that he did not escape the hospital. However the charge of murder, if this is sustained, and pressed first, will doubtless take precedence over the charge of illegally transporting intoxicating liquors.

The Irvine grand jury has been busily engaged investigating the big list of alleged law violators, and it is reported from there that there will be a big list of indictments in an effort to eliminate the practice of bringing whisky into the town.

G. O. P. SENATORS COMING
Senators Johnson, California, Borah, Idaho, and Beveridge, Indiana, will campaign in Kentucky before November 2 according to an announcement at Republican state headquarters. When the trio will appear and where each will speak has not been determined. It is probable, however, that the Californian will be booked to sow the seeds of "anti-Leagueism" in the Bell-Harlan part of the Eleventh district.

"CRIME AND ITS PREVENTION," THEME

Dr. Carpenter Attributes Laxity of Ethics and Law Enforcement to Crime Wave

One of the most significant meetings held in Richmond for some time was that which crowded the large auditorium of the First Christian church on Sunday night to hear Dr. Carpenter talk on "The Prevalence of Crime in Our Community and Its Prevention." The other churches of the city adjourned their services to join in this meeting.

With remarkable clearness and frankness the speaker gave a diagnosis of the local situation and declared that the community was reaping of its own sowing—that not the Kaiser but the community was to be charged with the indictment. After pointing out the causes leading up to the present tragic conditions, he suggested certain definite remedies which can be immediately applied. At the close of the address, Dr. Telford, who had been asked to preside, requested that every member of the audience who was willing to endorse its content, and to stand back of it, stand. The entire audience stood almost to a man.

Taking the story of the first homicide, the killing of Abel by Cain, as the background for the address, Dr. Carpenter said:

"It is a far cry from this first murder down to now, but human nature has not changed altogether since then, and as strange as it may seem, 1,900 years after the beginning of the Christian era, we find ourselves in Richmond in the midst of a saturnalia of crime. Murder and arson have wedded in our midst and together have written one of the blackest chapters in the criminal history of the state. So well have we thought of ourselves in this city that it did not occur to us that such a thing could happen and that on the streets of our neighboring cities the newsboys would shout: 'gruesome headlines of the daily paper, "more murders in Richmond!" But as we come in humiliation and in shame for our town, it is unnecessary for me to recount the morbid story of some dozen homicides in recent weeks and all the terrifying things that go with them.

"Everywhere the question is asked, 'How is it possible to explain a situation like this?' What is the cause of this prevalence of crime in our community, until as men come down town in the morning they ask, 'Who was killed last night?'

This question as to cause is of fundamental importance. Let us find, if we can, the diagnosis, and then we shall be ready to prescribe the remedy. The easiest thing is to say, it is the result of the war and I am sure that in this backwash of the war human life is far cheaper than it has been before. It is easier to murder now. But let me remind you that it is not enough to lay it on the Kaiser, let us adjust the glasses until the focus is on our own community. Is not Richmond reaping a red harvest from her own sowing?"

The speaker then pointed out the things which have made possible the present condition. The first cause which he assigned was the breaking down of moral restraints.

He said, "The anchor claims of our moral standards have slipped. Our ideals have degenerated. Our fine sense of ethics and morals and virtue are not what they have been in the past. We have 'loosened up,' and we men and women in Richmond can do things today and remain in good standing which they would have found difficult to do hitherto. As an evidence of the truth of this fact let me point you to two or three definite things. Take the spirit of gambling, for instance—now spreading like the flames of a great forest fire in Richmond. If our city avoids raising up a generation of gamblers there must be an immediate and radical change in our community's attitude to gambling. It has gotten to be a matter of common knowledge and one might almost say common consent that practically every form of gambling is going on in Richmond."

Dr. Carpenter then made an appeal to parents in the city in behalf of their boys, saying that out of his very intimate touch with our boys in the teen age that he knew they were unable to see the difference between playing pool for a pot of money in the pocket of the table and gambling on the races in Lexington; unable to see the difference between taking a deck of cards and playing for a pool of money in a game of poker and taking a deck of cards and playing for a pool of silver in a game of bridge. He made an appeal to the women of Richmond to abandon the practice of prizes in bridge and gambling on the races which he declared to be the most certain evidence of the breaking down of our civilization.

The picture show, which presents a good films, he said, also presents a great many filled with the story of arson and murder and homewrecking and lust, and after feeding our young people up on such stuff, it will be surprising if we do not develop a group of criminals after that order. All of these things were indicated as an evidence of the breaking down of moral restraints, the disintegrations of the fine ideals which we have formerly held. And all make it easier for crime to flourish.

The second thing indicated as making possible the present conditions on our community was the disregard and in many cases the contempt for our civil law. "If the man who goes out to kill knew there was an electric chair at the end of the way, in the majority of cases he wouldn't go. If the man who loads up on some booze concoction and goes out to shoot up the town knew that in every case he would get the 'limp' it going up," he might take on a lighter load. If the individual who is selling this liquor knew he had a meal ticket every time behind prison bars, he would go into other business.

The third thing indicated as making possible conditions was the practice of carrying concealed and deadly weapons. Dr. Carpenter of some of the towns in the state during the past ten years, and called attention to the fact that in many of them the criminal docket has been practically eliminated by the making of this practice a felony. "Every man who carries a deadly weapon concealed in violation of law," he declared, "is a potential murderer. He may not be conscious of it, but let a situation develop such as frequently develops and he uses the gun and another murder is docketed."

In conclusion the remedy was suggested in brief. The building up of our moral restraints which is the business, particularly of the church, the home and the school, the rigid enforcement of the civil law through the imposition of the maximum sentence, and the creation of a league of friendship of all the forces in the community that stand for community betterment in a crusade against every type of evil.

BOMB KILLS 3 IN CORK TODAY

Cork, Ireland, Sept. 27.—A bomb exploded in St. Patrick street, Cork's main thoroughfare, and blew out the front of a large department store this morning. Soldiers were rushed to the scene and fired on snipers. The explosion shook the entire city.

Dispatches received here from Belfast say three men were slain, apparently in cold blood, the sequel to the murder of a policeman. It is also said there is serious rioting in Belfast, where large forces of troops are on duty with armored cars.

COFFEY FARM SELLS FOR $17,500

The Freeman Realty Company put over another big sale late last week, when they sold the J. L. Coffey farm near Cottonburg at a handsome figure. The name of the buyer will not be announced quite yet for personal reason, but the 7 acres of this nice little place brought a total of $17,500. The public sale of this place which was advertised to be held soon has been declared off by reason of this sale.

COX AND HARDING ON SAME PLATFORM

Both Presidential Candidates To Speak and Lunch Together Near Fremont, Ohio

Marion, Ohio, Sept. 27.—Unique in the history of presidential campaign, candidates of two great parties will lunch together and speak from the same platform on October 4, when Governor James M. Cox and Senator Warren G. Harding are scheduled to appear at Spiegel Grove, near Fremont, Ohio, according to an announcement yesterday afternoon from Harding headquarters.

Plans for the two candidates to appear together at the Ohio State Fair at Columbus last month fell through because of Mr. Harding's refusal to attend. The Harding headquarters announcement read: "Senator Harding and Governor Cox will both speak from the same platform the afternoon of October 4 at Spiegel Grove, near Fremont, Ohio at the unveiling of a memorial tablet in honor of the Sandusky county soldiers who lost their lives in the great war."

"The two presidential candidates, accompanied by their wives will be the guests of Col. Web C. Hayes, son of President Rutherford B. Hayes, at his home."

The date, October 4, is the ninety-eighth anniversary of the birth of Rutherford B. Hayes. The ceremonies of the occasion will mark the unveiling of a bronze tablet."

LEAGUE CALLED MISSIONS' HOPE

Louisville, Sept. 27.—"Ratification of the League of Nations as the greatest aid to American missionary work," was emphasized at every session of the 28th annual convention of the Churches of Christ in Kentucky, being held at the First Christian church.

Declaring that revolutions in England are to be expected as a result of the conflict between capital and labor, and of the dissatisfaction over the manner in which the Irish question is being handled; that food is practically unobtainable in Germany and Austria, and describing conditions everywhere in Europe as "terrible," Dr. R. H. Crossfield, president of Transylvania University, who has just returned from a three months' study of conditions in Europe, said that the "only hope for stricken Europe is the League of Nations."

League Defeat Means Barbarism
"If the League of Nations is turned down," Rev. E. L. Powell addressing the morning session, said "the crucifixion of Armenia and Syria by the Turks and the Kurds under German leadership will continue in the land where Christianity was born."

The League of Nations was again touched by the Rev. Dr. M. A. Hart, Danville, regional secretary. "Christ's purpose in the world was to make the nations as one," he said. "Our Lord prayed for an international mind and an inter-racial heart."

SWALLOWS POISON; NOW RECOVERING

Mrs. Rachel Keeton, wife of John Keeton, who shot and killed Robert Powell Thursday night at the carnival grounds, when Mrs. Keeton and Powell were found together, is at the Patie A. Clay hospital recovering from the effects of poison taken with suicidal intent. The woman swallowed a combination of potash and some disinfectant and for some time her condition was thought to be serious. Before taking the poison Mrs. Keeton told a number of relatives and friends of her intention. The attending physicians state she had not swallowed a sufficient quantity of the lotion to cause death. Her recovery is predicted.

KINCHELOE SPEAKS HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

One of the most eloquent speakers in congress will speak to the voters of Madison county at the court house here Tuesday night. He is Hon. Dave Kincheloe, congressman from the Second district. Those who have heard Congressman Barkley ought to hear Kincheloe, for he is rated by many as equally effective and brilliant an orator and speaker. He will give some mighty strong reasons why every man and woman should vote for Cox and Roosevelt on November 2. He speaks at the court house at 8 o'clock on Tuesday night, and all are invited to hear him.

EASTERN NORMAL DOWN TO BUSINESS

Beginning Tuesday morning, with all regular classes filled and the preliminary work of starting the Eastern Normal, regular studies in all departments will be announced and the fall term will be under way, with the largest enrollment in years, and conditions excellent for a most prosperous and successful year.

The instructors during the past week have been receiving the students in the various departments and new arrivals have been placed. The new departments are well represented and there are many who have come from afar to take up the work of studying here. The buildings have been found in very good order and the members of the faculty, as well as the board of regents, are jubilant over the prospects.

The two new dormitories will soon be added thus increasing the capacity and all will be put in readiness for the enrollment for the winter term. The athletic department will be an important one, since the new instructor has announced there will be special attention given to this immediately. There will be basketball and football, galore, and it is said the five societies represented at the institution will receive an impetus in way of membership within the next month or two. The Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. work will be started within a short time and this will be carried on extensively.

VETERANS RECOVER FROM OPERATION

Rodes Terrill and Oscar Stanifer, first ex-service men to be operated upon at the Pattie A. Clay hospital, after this work here passed to the jurisdiction of the government hospital here, are said to be recovering in a very satisfactory manner, and they will be able to be out within a week or ten days, it is believed. There are a number of other Madison county men awaiting to be operated on and it is expected this phase of work will become very extensive, since the establishment of the unit here. Plans are being prepared for the improvement of facilities at the hospital, if possible, in the near future, in order to give better service both to patient and surgeon. A successor to Dr. J. H. Jeffries, of the medical staff, who has been promoted to a similar position in Lexington, has not been announced. It is understood it will be a local physician. Dr. Jeffries is preparing to go to Lexington to take up his work there.

CLOSE CALL WHEN AUTO TURNS TURTLE

Mrs. Wallace Gilbert had several ribs broken and her husband and brother, Joe, Gilbert, were badly shaken up when their car overturned on the Lexington pike about three miles out of town on Saturday evening. The party was returning for Lexington and it is said their car was not going unusually fast. They pulled to the side of the pike to let another car pass, and got two wheels into a ditch and over the car went. It turned turtle completely. The windshield was smashed, three wheels broken and the top smashed in. The two Messrs. Gilbert were thrown clear out of the machine, out into the road, but Mrs. Gilbert was pinned under the top, and it is said to be a miracle almost that she was not killed. She was brought on to town and given prompt treatment. The bad condition of the roadway at that point was said to have been responsible for the accident. The Lexington pike is in fearful shape on both sides of the river, and many wonder that more accidents have not occurred.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Long—Hume

Their host of friends were given quite a surprise when announcement was made late last week that Miss Nancy Long, of Kirksville, and Mr. Irvine Hume, of Richmond, had motored to Louisville and were married there Friday at noon. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mrs. Mary Long, a sister of Mrs. Clay Blake-man, and her family is quite prominent in that section of the county. Mr. Hume is one of Madison county's best known and most popular young business men and a farmer and a member of one of the county's oldest and most prominent families. Mr. and Mrs. Hume will make their home at his farm on the Jack's creek pike, to which they came Sunday. Their friends will extend wishes for every happiness.

Bridgeford—Baker

The following clipping, from the Lexington Leader, will be of interest here where the groom frequently visits his relatives:

News of the marriage of T. Fountain Baker, of this city, to Miss Anna Keenon Bridgeford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bridgeford, of Frankfort, has been received here. The marriage was performed at the home of Miss Bridgeford's aunt, Mrs. R. K. Stephens, at Spokane, Wash., Sept. 18 by the Rev. L. W. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church of that city. After a stay of several weeks in Portland, Ore., and Los Angeles, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. Baker will make their home at "Thornwood," the country home of Mr. Baker, on the Lexington road. The bridegroom is a son of the late J. A. Baker, one of Jessamine county's wealthiest farmers.

Delightful Dinner

Mrs. Joe Wagers was host to a delicious dinner, at her home near Waco Sunday, in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Park, of Charleston, South Carolina. The beautifully appointed table had for its center a large basket of pink asters and fern, and the menu was served in several courses. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Park, Hon. C. L. Searcy and Mrs. Searcy, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Miller, Mr. and Mrs. James Wagers, Miss Nancy Woods Chenault, Mr. W. H. A Serious Feminine Illness Remedied
By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Casco, Wis.—"After the birth of each of my children I had displacement; and was so weak I couldn't do anything. I found a book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I thought I would try it, and after taking it I soon felt better. That was fifteen years ago and I have felt well ever since except that I had a slight attack of the trouble some time ago and took some more of your Compound and was soon all right again. I always recommend your medicine and you may publish my testimonial for the benefit of other women."—Mrs. J. L. Bero, Jr., R. 1, Box 59, Casco, Wis.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ailments in this country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

COMMUNITY INSPIRED TO INCORPORATE TOWN

Coke Otto, a small mining community near Hamilton, Ohio, isn't content to be just a group of people any longer.

Coke Otto wants to be an incorporated town.

And it's all the result of community meetings and activities inaugurated by the Rural Extension Secretary of Hamilton Chapter of the Red Cross.

When Hamilton engaged its rural worker, she went among other places to Coke Otto, where perhaps 700 people live. Sanitary conditions were very lax there, so one of the first movements was the organization of a "tin can brigade." This was divided into eight sub-regiments and prizes were offered the group that kept the most rubbish out of the community for a specified length of time.

Subsequent community meetings have shown the people of Coke Otto the need for street clean-ups, flood protection and sanitation. After the third meeting the community decided that better and quicker results could be obtained through united efforts. Hence the plan to become an incorporated town.

American Red Cross Announces Budget of $48,200,000 For Current Year.

NEW DISASTER RELIEF PLAN

Continuance of Heavy Work Abroad Deemed Necessary to Protect United States—$21,000,000 Less Than Last Year.

A program of relief and service toward which appropriations of $48,200,000 have been made has been outlined for the American Red Cross for the fiscal year, July 1, 1920, to July 1, 1921, according to official announcement by national headquarters of the organization at Washington. The figures for 1920-21 are $21,000,000 below those of 1919-20, in which $69,400,000 was spent.

Important among the items of the budget for the present year is the appropriation of $31,500,000 for relief in foreign lands, which includes $11,000,000 in purchased supplies on hand and not distributed.

Must Protect United States.

This will enable the American Red Cross to continue its humanitarian effort to aid stricken peoples to re-establish themselves, to fight the disease epidemics which threaten many countries and to efface largely the remaining traces of the blight left by the World War. It is regarded as social as well as physical sanitation on a large scale that will have a direct bearing on future conditions in America.

Central Europe, the chief sufferer from the conflict, today is facing another winter of famine, pestilence and ruin. Typhus decreased much during the summer months where last winter it had its greatest stronghold, but physicians who investigated the situation at the behest of the League of Red Cross Societies have given their unqualified opinion that this coming winter will see a recurrence on an unprecedented scale. The Red Cross feels it must continue preventive measures abroad to keep this and other deadly maladies from the United States.

Millions for Work at Home.

When the disease was sweeping Central Europe last winter the American Red Cross, with the aid of the governments of afflicted nations, undertook the fight against it. Hospitals were established wherever possible and food and clothing were distributed to the undernourished populations, who by reason of their undernourishment were easy prey to the epidemics. Where disorganization contributed last year to the great inroads made by the disease, by virtue of its knowledge of the disease and the presence of well established hospital centers, the American Red Cross this year will undertake the work with a new confidence.

Including the total of $11,000,000 in supplies left from the last fiscal year, the $31,500,000 is $21,000,000 less than the expenditures for 1919-20.

Appropriations for domestic activities total $16,700,000. The largest item of this "home" budget is $7,800,000 for civilian relief work. This includes service and assistance for families of soldiers, sailors and marines, and work incidental to disaster. Of the total appropriation for civilian relief, $5,000,000 is held in reserve for the carrying out of actual disaster relief.

Reduced Overhead Expense.

The Red Cross invariably is the first thought of a community visited by calamity. With this in mind, it was determined by the Executive Committee in preparing the budget of 1919-20 to have a fixed reserve fund from which to draw in these instances.

For assistance to soldiers, sailors and marines in hospitals and in camps this year $1,900,000 has been set aside. Four million two hundred thousand dollars has been appropriated for improvement of health and prevention of disease throughout the United States during the current twelve months. The Red Cross is co-operating fully with the United States Health Service in this work and through its Junior Red Cross is doing much to spread among children the principles of sanitation. An appropriation of $1,000,000 has been made for developing the peace time program of the Red Cross by service to its chapters in all regions.

The appropriation of $48,200,000 is exclusive of the local expenditures of the 3,000 or more chapters. Administration expenses this year will be $1,800,000. Last year they were $2,300,000.

Don't Wait

STATE MEDICAL MEETING

The Kentucky State Medical meeting opens Tuesday morning at Lexington. The convention will continue throughout the week. There will be a number of Richmond physicians in attendance. The program is said to be one of the most interesting arranged for years.

John T. Woodford, 70, of Mt. Sterling, one of the best known horsemen in the state, is dead after a lingering illness.

FISH MAKING RECORD

W. S. Fish, narcotic inspector for Eastern Kentucky, has returned from Martinsburg, W. Va., where he attended Federal court as a witness in the case of Dr. Harper Judy, of Whitman, W. Va., who was charged with violation of the Harrison narcotic law by failure to keep proper records and by misuse of order forms. Dr. Harrison is reported by the officer to have pleaded guilty to using order forms to procure drugs for his own use. He was sentenced to serve six months in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta. He requested imprisonment in the Federal prison, it is said, in the hope that he could be cured of the habit by the treatment given there to narcotic addicts. This is the last of fifteen cases Inspector Fish had left over in West Virginia when he came to the Kentucky district last spring. He secured convictions in each of the fifteen cases. Mr. Fish is a former Madison county man and has many friends here.

FORMER MADISON MAN

MAKES BUSINESS CHANGE

Mr. Coy Sanders, proprietor of the Sanders' Variety Store, in Lancaster, sold this week his entire stock of merchandise and good will to Mr. W. B. Walden, who recently moved into Lancaster from Berea. Mr. Walden is an attorney-at-law by profession, and the store will be in charge of Mrs. Walden, who is a daughter of Mr. R. J. Engle, of this city, while he will devote his time to his profession. The style of the new firm will be "Walden's Sanitary Grocery" and he tells us that it will mean everything that the term implies.

We wish every success for the new firm that was accorded Mr. Sanders and hope they will have no cause to regret having moved to Lancaster, the best town in Central Kentucky.

Mr. Sanders has not decided just when or where he will go in business, but his friends are hoping that he will not leave our city.

BIG COPPER STILL AND MASH FOUND

Much-Sought Oasis Near Berea Located by Persistent Prohibition Officers Saturday

Madison county continues to contribute, as a result of the persistent operations of prohibition agents, who have been making some good hauls in this and other counties recently. Following up on the capture Friday of a man with almost 20 gallons in his possession, another rich find was made on Saturday.

A 50-gallon copper still, along with 200 gallons of mash and other moonshining equipment, was raided and destroyed less than a mile outside of Berea, Madison county, Saturday by federal prohibition agents, according to an announcement also made by Chief Prohibition Agent Paul Williams on Saturday.

The raid was made by Prohibition Agents S. J. Cornett, J. H. Halon and H. M. Samuels. The still was located about 200 yards from two houses. No one was found near the still when the officers swooped down, though it was evident that the still had been used recently. After destroying the still and other equipment and pouring out the mash, the officers searched a house a short distance from the still and found two gallons of moonshine whisky, which they confiscated.

The man living in the house was not at home when the search was made. No arrests have been made in the case, but a thorough investigation will be made and arrests are expected shortly.

It is believed this is the source from whence many young men from Richmond have been supplied with liquor recently. One of them stated while being tried on a charge of intoxication that it was easy to get anything after leaving the city and going a few miles into the vicinity of Big Hill. He stated there was "plenty" to be found for the asking, after a certain place was reached. The police, as well as county and prohibition officers, have been actively engaged for some time ferreting out the oasis, but it was not discovered until Saturday.

Owen Walker Explains

About His Pistol

Richmond, Ky., Sept. 27. Editor Daily Register, Richmond. Dear Sir: I notice in your Saturday's paper that mention is made of the fact that the pistol used by Emil Lorisch in the killing of Mrs. Estes belonged to me. If this is a fact it is unknown to me. Someone took my pistol from the drawer in my place of business without my knowledge or consent. I did not allow Mr. Lorisch or anyone else to take this pistol with my consent. I am writing this to you for the purpose of letting those interested know that I did not furnish Lorisch this pistol.

Boston Banks Are Asking Time to Pay Off

(By Associated Press)

Boston, Sept. 27.—Two Boston trust companies today served notice on savings depositors they would take advantage of the state law requiring 90 days' notice for withdrawals. They included the Tremont Trust Company, which made payments for an hour to a steadily increasing crowd. Other Boston banks opened their doors with ready cash piled high in the tellers' cages.

The Littlejohn circus left Richmond Sunday shortly before noon on a special train for the south, where the fairs for the season are starting.

417 ACRES OF FINE LAND

Six Miles From Danville on Stanford Pike

Public Sale

We will sell for Warren Wheeler

Saturday, October 2, 1920

at 10 o'clock sharp, his 417-acre farm, located half way between Danville and Stanford, on the Danville and Stanford Turnpike—beautiful road to two of the best towns on earth.

This sale is made on account of the ill health of Mr. Wheeler, who must seek milder climate. The farm contains 417 acres and will be sold in two tracts.

TRACT No. 1—Contains 372 acres and the improvements consist of a large modern two-story frame residence; all up-to-date improvements, including furnace, hot and cold water, lighting plant. Three big tobacco barns, stock barns, corn cribs, stock scales and all other necessary outbuildings, underground concrete water tank, wind mill, etc. This is one of the most productive farms in Central Kentucky and one of the best watered ones in the world. Long beautiful pike frontage; most beautiful avenues and driveways human eyes ever beheld. As James I. Hamilton would say, "Buy this farm and you have taken a front seat in the Theater of Life." This farm is known as the Hawkins place.

TRACT No. 2—Contains 45 acres with long pike frontage with no improvements. Tract No. 2 is located just across the pike from Tract No. 1.

Finest Residence in Danville at Public Auction

Immediately after the farm sale, we will sell for Mr. Wheeler his fine home on Maple avenue, Danville. This is one of the most modern brick homes in Central Kentucky, large lot, double brick garage and everything that goes to make a home of the most modern type. This sale will take place about 2:00 o'clock.

Parties desiring to inspect any of this property should call on the undersigned.
